PRESIDENT IN FIGHTING MOOD

Nation Must Vindicate Principles of Liberty, Justice and Humanity

NATION'S POLICY TO BE GUIDED BY PEOPLE

"America First" Must Be Translated Into Action, Exalting It Above All Other Selfish Interests — Repeatedly Applauded.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—President Wilson, describing himself as "in a fighting mood," announced yesterday to a large crowd in Independence Square his conception of some of the cardinal American ideals. He declared that America in dealing with other nations must "vindicate at whatever cost its principles of liberty, justice and humanity;" that "America first" must be translated into action extending to all selfish interests and that the nation's policy and development must be guided by the whole people and not by any group.

Applause repeatedly interrupted the address. The crowd liked particularly the President's declaration that American principles must be vindicated in the country's foreign relations, which apparently was interpreted as referring to the Mexican situation. At no time, however, did Mr. Wilson mention Mexico or any other foreign nation directly.

"I believe, however," the President said, "that America, the country we put first in our thoughts, should be ready in every point of policy and of action to vindicate at whatever cost the principle of liberty and justice and of humanity to which we have been devoted from the first."

He believed that at whatever cost America should be just to other people and that other people should be just to America. He declared that they treat her with justice and respect, and she has a right to insist that they treat her in that fashion, but she cannot with dignity or with self-respect insist upon that unless she is willing to act in that same fashion toward them.

"That I am ready to fight for at any cost to myself," he said.

Urging that the whole people should shape the national policies, the President said that some men pretended to believe that some men pretended to believe that some men pretended to believe that some men pretended to believe that some men pretended to believe that some men pretended to believe

RAILROAD COACH SHORTAGE.

New Haven Handicapped by Draft of Cars for Carrying Troops.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 30.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company has posted the following notice in cars, coaches and Pullmans, and at stations:

"In order to move successfully the troops from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York and Rhode Island, a large number of coaches and sleeping cars have been taken from regular passenger service.

"This will cause inconvenience to patrons, especially during the Fourth of July business.

"The company asks you to bear with it at this time and remember if you are put to some inconvenience that it is because the company to the best of its ability is complying with the orders of the war department, and that your inconvenience is your contribution to the situation."

AGREE ON NAVAL BILL.

Senate Committee Unanimous for General Board Amendments.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The senate naval committee yesterday agreed unanimously to amendments to the naval bill providing for construction of four dreadnoughts and four battle cruisers in 1917, and completion in three years of the $260,000,000 building program urged by the navy general board. This is the program recommended by a sub-committee after conferences with Secretary Daniels.

As passed by the house, the bill provides for only five capital ships next year and contemplates no continuing building policy.

The committee tagged an amendment to the subcommittee report providing for reorganization of the naval militia similar to the National Guard reorganization effected in the army organization act. The bill will be reported to the senate today or Monday and be called up for consideration next week.

226 PARALYSIS CASES.

Epidemic in New York Spreading to Children on East Side.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis, which has been confined to Brooklyn, is spreading rapidly to Manhattan, according to Health Department bulletins. The total number of cases is now 226, of which 206 are in Brooklyn and 20 in Manhattan. Thirty-two new cases were reported yesterday. Deaths to date total 12.

"The situation in Manhattan is not encouraging," said Health Commissioner Emerson last night. "Most of the cases are confined to the crowded lower and upper East Side districts and follow the line of population. The epidemic of 1907 began in a similar manner."

Dr. Emerson explained that as far as possible all special activities of the department were being dropped that attention might be concentrated on curing infantile paralysis.

EXTENSION FOR B. & M.

Commission Grants an Additional Year for Reorganization.

BOSTON, June 30.—The public service commission yesterday announced that it had granted the petition of the Boston and Maine railroad for an extension of one year or until July 1, 1917, in the time allowed for effecting a reorganization of the road under legislation passed in this state last year. The commission found, it was stated, that public interest would be advanced by the extension. The bonors of the several roads entering into the reorganization plan had done much work, it is stated, and "certain fundamental features of the proposed reorganization have been approved by the stockholders."

RUSSIANS WIN GREAT BATTLE NEAR KOLOMEA

Storm the Austrian Trenches and Take 10,506 Prisoners—Are Still Advancing.

LONDON, June 30.—Gen. Lechitsky, commander of Brusiloff's center, began a mighty onrush yesterday against the Austro-Hungarian lines in Galicia and the northwestern Bukovina, between the Dniester and the region around Kuty, in an effort to push his opponents beyond the important railway city of Kolomea, strategically the most valuable point in southern Galicia.

Petrograd announced last night that Lechitsky inflicted a crushing defeat upon the Austro-Hungarians, taking three lines of trenches and 10,506 prisoners. This success was achieved in the northern part of the area of attack, between the Dniester and the Pruth. The fall of Kolomea is expected if the new advance continues. Its capture will mean the collapse of the whole defense scheme in southern Galicia and seal the doom of the Austro-Hungarian army now retreating toward the Transylvanian passes, as the latter would then be deprived of all hope of rejoining the northern Austrian wing. Moreover, the Russian success, if followed up by a further advance, will straighten out Gen. Brusiloff's line so as to consolidate his center and right wing, automatically forcing the Germans to fall back in Volhynia and abandon Kovel.

Vienna admits that "east of Kolomea" the Russians made "massed attacks" on a front of twenty-five miles and that "at numerous points" the attackers succeeded in advancing.

In the evening, however, it is asserted, the Russians were forced to evacuate "a portion" of the Austro-Hungarian front near Kolomea and southward. The statement refers to hand to hand conflicts and says "desperate fighting" is in progress.

The Austrian war office declares Russian attacks on the Dniester line were repulsed north of Obertyn, which is thirteen miles northeast of Kolomea. In Volhynia the situation is asserted to be quiet.

Russian cavalry was dispersed near Isvor, Vienna says. Isvor lies on a small river of the same name in the foothills of the Carpathians.

SHOOTING AFFRAY

NEAR MONTPELIER

Stranger in Jail Refuses to Give Name of Friend in Hospital Likely to Die.

MONTPELIER, June 30.—As the result of a shooting affair at Montpelier Junction last night a man about 20 years old is in the Heaton hospital with a bullet wound in his stomach and his chances of recovery are considered slight. A companion, about 35 years old, who says his name is Reilly and who refuses to give his first name, is in jail. Reilly says that the injured man belongs in Haverhill, Mass. The details of the shooting are obscure. Reilly says that he and his companion were at the Central Vermont station last evening at the Junction and were ordered off the premises by some Italian engaged as section hands by the Central Vermont railroad. He says that as he and his companion did not move quick enough to suit the Italians one of the latter fired, wounding his companion.

Though the police have learned that Reilly and his friend had a fight early in the evening and are inclined to believe that the shooting may have grown out of the affair, the sudden disappearance of two section hands, N. Rossi and N. Buno, cannot be accounted for. The Italians lived in a car near the station at the Junction.

A Montpelier man saw two men engaged in a fight and going to the spot found a box, evidently dropped in the scuffle, containing a number of dynamite caps. He took the box to the police office and while an officer was investigating it was learned of the shooting.

The shot fired at the man in the hospital must have been at close quarters as there are powder stains on his clothing.
